I had the same problem and it was solved by running Project->Invalidate Cache Diablo 3 I just used a kill shot, and it told me I'd used my last "informative feedback", and it just sat there for hours, and hours, and hours, and didn't count any kills or anything, it just sat there with 0 kills. Hello, I have a slight problem with Diablo 3. I bought Diablo III from Gameplanet back in late May and when I went to play it today it said my account had been banned for security reasons, in a security note it said it was an unknown issue with the origin IP. I'm not too sure what this means. It could mean someone got in and my IP address was used to allow them access, I'm not too sure what would have allowed this as I was away on vacation when this happened. In any case I contacted Gameplanet customer service and they said they would fix this issue and then they would get back to me. Since then I have not gotten a response and I have no idea how to get this issue fixed. I can play the game on my account but it says I have a ban. I have attempted to contact Gameplanet again but they have not responded. I am not happy with this situation and I would appreciate any help, I would like to play the game again. Thank you.
